- Hello, I have sent you the project and hope you looked through it fully to assess whether it met your expectations.
- Yes, I got the chance to review it. Generally, I am satisfied with the work, you've done log in system as I expected with division into student and teacher. The design is minimalistic as I asked, but some formatting could be better on the main page. Otherwise, the visual part is fine. I love how you sort the events in chronological order, that is pretty comfortable. The page with adding new event is fine as well, has the same design as the main page. I got a question as it wasn't really clear, how do teachers or rather organizers get their pass codes?
- It is quite simple. If someone wants to add their own event, they need to contact me or you, because only we as owner and a developer have the code for access. Then the pass code can be changed to cut off access of very old organizers. I think that way we can control every entry and not overflow the database. What do you think?
- Certainly, I'm ok with that feature. Another question is about deleting events. How do you manage that?
- That is room for improvement. For now, the only way to delete the event is from the database itself. The events will disappear from the main page as soon as the date of a particular event has passed. In the future I can add a button for that, but this should be supported by more complicated logic, for example only the organizer can delete their event, not others. As I said, this will be a more complex algorithm and can be implemented in the future.
- All right, then all the point I wanted to discuss with you seem fine. I am satisfied with the work.
- How would you grade it on the scale from 1 to 10?
- As it met more than 90% of my expectations, I'd say a strong 7, maybe 8.
- Thank you for this call, I appreciate your time. Have a nice evening.
- You too!
